NEW YEAR'S EVE IN THE COMMUNITY CENTRE!

Aimed at Halling Villagers together with their friends and families who are looking for some community spirit on the 31st December; Bring your own booze and eats.

Tickets which covers the cost of hire of the Community Centre Hall are available at the Christmas Fair

Cost: £6 per adult; £3 per child

From the Chairman.....

It's that time of year again!! Christmas is just around the corner and it seems only yesterday we were worrying about the Halling Fayre. As I write this a small and very dedicated volunteer team drawn from the Parish Council and Halling residents is busily working in the background arranging the Christmas festivities. This is a large task for us to co-ordinate and we are trying to bring different themes each year. I hope you all, especially the children enjoy yourselves.

I have noticed some criticism of the Council's attempts to bring the village together at the events it puts on. Firstly let me say that these events form a large part of the efforts and budget that the Council expends. Secondly, if you want to see a change to how your village is run then step forward and volunteer to take part, but remember that whilst everyone else is merrily enjoying themselves you will be running around trying to make the event work. We are already thinking of what to do for next year, in the summer, in November (100th anniversary of the end of WW1) and, of course, Christmas. We would welcome suggestions and help.

At last we have a new footbridge across the A228; the Parish Council has been campaigning for this for a long time. We will continue to request an improved crossing on the A228 to the south by the Peter's Bridge roundabout as this is much needed.

To bring this to a close may I wish you all a very Happy Christmas and a prosperous and safe New Year on behalf of all the members of Halling Parish Council.

Chris Herbert, Chairman, Halling Parish Council

Are you in need of transport due to mobility issues to get to the Carol Concert and Fair? If you need a ride we have a stunning offer from a local parishioner to do a small number of runs in a wheelchair accessible taxi to and from the event – other volunteers welcome! Please speak to

SANTA VISITS HALLING

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY - WE HAVE MADE CHANGES THIS YEAR

Santa and his elves will be making their annual trip to Halling on Thursday 21st December. We will be starting at St Andrew's park at approximately 4.00pm and will then travel through Upper Halling on to Lower Halling. If you live in Lower Halling it is likely that we will get to you after 8.00pm. Please note if you are not at home when the sleigh arrives we will be unable to return at a later time.

Due to the increasing number of Halling residents we have had to limit the number of Santa stops this year in order to ensure that we can make it through the village on time. There will be 100 stops as well as three additional community stops for any residents without a home stop or for those with children at Halling School living outside of Halling. These will be at NEWTOWN SOCIAL CLUB (between 4.45pm-5.15pm), JUBILEE HALL (between 6.45pm-7.15pm) and the COMMUNITY CENTRE (between 8pm-8.30pm). If you would like one of these stops please complete the slip below with your chosen stop as the delivery address.

If you would like Santa to deliver a present to your child, please provide the following:

- A small wrapped present clearly marked with the child's name and delivery address
- The completed form provided below (please DO NOT attach it to the present)
- The amount of £3.00 for 1 child, £5.00 for 2 children, £7.00 for 3 children, £1 each for any extra children

Please hand ALL OF THE ABOVE to a member of the PTA who will be in the entrance hall at Halling Primary School at 2.30pm until 3.30pm from Monday 4th December to Friday 8th December. Presents can only be accepted during these times - please DO NOT ask the school office staff as they will be unable to assist.

Presents must be at the school NO LATER than Friday 8th December as they need to be sorted and boxed, any presents received after this date WILL NOT be accepted.

Presents MUST be small, not fragile, heavy or bulky etc.

The sleigh run is organised ENTIRELY by the members of the Halling School PTA who give up their time to organise and run it for the residents of Halling. A special thanks needs to go to Martyn Court of Total Property who gives up his time every year to pull the sleigh as well as Mark Tickner who helps organise the route and assists us on the night.

We look forward to seeing you again this year, don't forget to put your loose change into our collection buckets as we make our way through the village!

Wishing you a Merry Christmas from Santa, the Elves and Halling School PTA

DO NOT ATTACH THIS FORM TO PRESENTS - PRESENTS MUST BE INDIVIDUALLY LABELLED WITH THE CHILDS NAME AND DELIVERY ADDRESS

Christmas Blues and Christmas Light

A couple of weeks ago, I read a newspaper column in which a woman was complaining about Christmas and saying how she would like to go abroad for the next few months to avoid it. My online comment was, "If you want to avoid 'Christmas', try going to Church." We'll respect Advent and, when we do celebrate Christmas at the proper time, we'll celebrate something worth celebrating.

I can think of three reasons why people might not like Christmas. The first is if they are unhappy and feel that everybody apart from them is having a great time. Maybe they remember much happier Christmases in times past and feel all the more sad because of what has been lost. It's a reminder to all of us to be sensitive to how other people are feeling and to treat them respectfully and kindly. It's also a thought that we have to decide ourselves what to make of how we feel. I've reached an age when I can look back on happy times spent with people now long dead and regret their passing. Nothing can take those times away, however. I'm thankful for what I have had in the past. I know also that my Christian friends who have departed this life are celebrating Christmas with me now in a better place. I also appreciate what I have now and am thankful for the very different Christmases we presently enjoy and I look forward to the future with confidence in God for my life on earth and in heaven.

The second reason some people dislike Christmas is the consumerism. In days gone by, when many people were poor and maybe hungry, a time of feasting and drinking and giving and receiving presents really meant something. It was a foretaste of heaven. But, for many of us today, the problem is not that we're hungry, but that we quite possibly eat and drink more than is good for us throughout the year. For people who worry about their weight, Christmas can be really stressful. And what do you give the person who has everything? One person I knew used really to frustrate her family. Every year they bought her a Christmas present which she would take back to the shop in January – and, being sale time, would get back less money than they'd originally paid for it. I think the answer to eating and drinking a lot at Christmas is to be sensible. Don't so obsess about "healthy eating" that you can't ever enjoy a good meal without feeling guilty, but also be wise and exercise moderation. Greed and drunkenness are not good things and don't make you happy in the long run. As for Christmas presents, it really is the thought that counts. Given that insight, we worry less about the object (the gift) and value more the subject (the person giving or receiving the gift).

Finally, there is the problem of "What does it all mean?" Most cultures have a midwinter festival. The days have been getting darker; the weather has been getting colder, but, around the end of December, there is a change. The year turns and there is a new beginning. The twelve days of Christmas, from the 25th December onwards, are a good way to enjoy those dark days and indeed to use up the meat of those animals which you can't afford to keep through the Winter. You then emerge in January to begin the natural cycle all over again. All this means a lot less in an industrial society with electric light and central heating and everything you want available in the shops all the year round. So what does it mean for us to hold a midwinter festival? Why should we care about the rhythm of the seasons?

Human beings, being what we are, have generally tied in their festivals with their religions. Non-Christian religions assign meaning to festivals, as does Christianity, but what would festivals mean if there were no God? We Christians celebrate the midwinter festival as the coming of the Light of the world. Jesus is the Light of the world. He dispels the darkness of evil and death. That is our reason for celebrating Christmas. The Birth of Jesus is the meaning of the festival and it is for this reason that I'm looking forward to eating good food and drinking at table with my family and my friends and giving them gifts and receiving tokens of love from them. I'm also looking forward to our Christmas services, especially our Christmas Communion, when we receive in a small piece of bread Him Who was born in Bethlehem (the very name of which means House of Bread in Hebrew) Jesus the Bread of life and Light of the world. Merry Christmas, Roger Knight, Rector of Cuxton & Halling.

Jim Sutherland – Bookings Secretary

Holborough Fire Halling lends a helping hand!

On the morning of the 16th September Jim Sutherland got a call from his daughter Julie to tell him that there had been a disaster – homes had been destroyed by fire at Holborough – she asked – ‘Can we open the Community Centre as a shelter for those that might be affected?’

Within the hour the Community Centre is proud to say it was open and staffed, ready to provide support to those in need. An appeal had been posted to Simply Halling asking for volunteers, contributions and donations.

Within no time contributions were being delivered, a contact point in Snodland had been established and volunteers were to and from between Halling and our Snodland neighbours with those contributions. By early afternoon the message that no more contributions were being taken on site as the Emergency Services had established their excellent response. Food from the two local stores was provided and two families had offered temporary accommodation.

The centre was closed at about 5pm and opened again for a short while on the Sunday to again accept donations, as they were more than Holborough needed, Pastor Kevin of the Baptist Church if he could re purpose them for the Homeless which he did.

Thanks to all that contributed with their time, donations and energy. Well Done Halling!
